DEDICATION OF NEW NURSERY ADDITION TO HOSPITAL BUILDING

Fitting Ceremonies Mark Dedictory Exercises of King's Daughters' Hancock County Hospital in Bay St. Louis Friday Afternoon.

Realization of a fond hope was marked last Friday afternoon at the local King's Daughters' Hospital, Carroll avenue, when dedicatory exercises marked the completion and acceptance for use the annex building to be used as a nursery for infants, and at which place and time a large number of people had assembled.

At 3 o'clock the miscellaneous showers, of which Mrs. Emily Lacoste was chairman, took place, lasting until 4 when the dedicatory exercises followed, beginning on time.
The shower was an unusual success. Many and various articles of practical use were contributed, adding to the hospital store and filling a much-needed want. The many things are all of fine and practical quality and widely selected.

At 4 o'clock the Rev. Andrew J.
Boyles, pastor of the First Methodist church, Bay St. Louis, delivered the opening prayer for the dedication.
His prayer for blessing was rich in thought and eloquent in expression, asking, in addition to the blessing of the Almighty, that the many who would go forth into the world from this nursery would grow to be useful men and women.

This was followed by the Rev.
Warwick Aiken, rector of Christ Episcopal church, whose words of dedication were inspiring and most fitting. He told the story of how the nursery was built, and of the benefaction of the donors of the money and other help who had made it possible. In sequence and sublimely expressed he told of this beneficent gesture, what it meant for the hospital and its service and paid tribute to the memory of Miss Celia Smith, after whom the memorial will be called, "The Celia Smith Memorial Nursery."

Mrs. Fournier, president of King's Daughters' organization, and through whose indefatigable energy and constant interest, the hospital has accomplished so much, was presented with a bouquet of sweet pea blossoms. This formal presentation was made by young Miss Mary Lou Bourgeois daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Douglas Bourgeois.

Miss Julie Elliott, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Elliott, delivered the opening address of the program, with all the charm and naturalness of her youthful and sweet personality.

Longfellow's well-known poem,
"Children," was effectively delivered by Miss Rosemary Piazza, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Piazza.

Song and portrayal of "Sleep, Sweet One, Sleep," was rendered in endearing manner by young Miss Anna Pitilo.

Refreshments were served, with Mrs. Edw. C. Carrere presiding at the punch bowl, assisted in serving by Misses Georgette Hale and Iris Davis.

Mrs. Fournier was assisted in receiving by members of the reception committee, appointed for this occasion. Mrs. Edw. C. Carrere, Mrs.
G. Y. Blaize, Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau, Miss Elsa Spori, Mrs. C. E. Craft, Miss Thelma Ellis.

Lovely cut flowers decorated the office and reception room, all home grown, and donated by Mrs. M. J.
Wolfe, Mrs. A. A. Kergosien, Miss Ruth Schreck, Judge Alcide Ladner, Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau, with calendula and sweet pea blossoms predominating.

One hundred assorted cakes for the occasion were donated by Vassili's Sanitary Bakery.

The nursery was made possible by the money donated by Mr. Walter L.
Lane and family, of Memphis, reluctantly of the late Miss Celia Smith, who was cared for at Christmas time after she had met with a fatal automobile accident. Money given by Mrs. C. A. Spori, of New Orleans and Bay St. Louis, made it possible to furnish the nursery. Mr. Dan Fayard, contractor and builder, donated the labor on the building. Mr.
Edward Heitzman, local electrician, did the wiring and other electrical work gratis, and Mr. Harry L. Wilter, local painter and decorator, did the painting also as a contribution.

Messrs. A. A. Phillips, Randolph
Bourgeois and the Magnolia State Supply Company were also instrumental in making the project complete by their kind offices and generosity.

Bay St. Louis Masonic Lodge gave the large plate glass set in the hall separating the nursery from the office and reception room a special gift of value and usefulness.

Result of the shower was abundant. Various cash donations amounted to a total of $7.70. Articles, and how many, were given as follows:

ED. ORTTE CANDIDATE FROM BEAT 5

Well Known and Enterprising Citizen Announces Candidacy for Supervisor.

Ed. P. Ortte, one of the best known and progressive citizens of this section of the county, announces his candidacy in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo for the office of supervisor, Beat 5, Hancock county.

Mr. Ortte is well known and hardly needs introduction at our hands.
Yet a young man, he has had an active and varied career, a force that is potential and, if elected, will serve in good stead as a contributing factor to the further growth and development of Hancock county, particularly this section of the Gulf Coast.

He attended Jesuit High School at New Orleans and later studied law at Tulane. At this juncture the world war broke out and in due time he volunteered army service, serving over a period of two years and three months. Of this time he saw three-teen months active service in France, during which time he was wounded.
Later he received a citation for bravery.

He has been quite successful in managing and financing business and his various ventures from time to time have proven this.

In 1937 he was elected commander of Clement Boncompagni Post, American Legion, in Hancock county. He was re-elected in 1938 and is at present still serving in like capacity.

Having served in various business capacities we find him identified with various business enterprise.

He is a member of the board of directors of the Plaquemine Oil and Development Company of Louisiana.

Was president of the Gulf Coast Shrimpers and Oystermen's Association until last week when he resigned in order he may devote more time to his candidacy and not to associate the union with politics, a very thoughtful consideration.

He has at present business interests in Florida that is not only active but constantly expanding. Although his major business interests are away he does his banking, buying and all trading in Hancock county, a firm believer in spending his money where he makes his home and where he enjoys all the privileges of civic improvement and protection.

"I am a great believer in spending money in the place I call home," he said. "Also a believer in equalization privileges of all men, dividing one's benefits with your fellowmen in your home community and, mainly, always subscribing to the golden rule, of doing unto others as you have them do unto you."

He was a candidate for the same office prior to the last election, entering the race only seven weeks preceding first primary and received a most flattering vote, a substantial testimonial of the high and popular esteem in which he is held.

His services are ever at the disposal of the public and no civic or other cause has ever received a refusal when asked for aid. It will be remembered the show and advertising project he successfully negotiated benefit of the local hospital some time back, netting several hundred dollars.

Mr. Ortte is unselfish, an unceasing worker and gives his time, ability and frequently of his means to all cause appealing. Such liberality and unselfishness is bound to merit recognition and stamps him as most unusual type of citizen and friend.
His candidacy is commended to the consideration of the public and the voters are asked to give him their support.

Logtown, Miss. The baby was presented with a blue fibron before it left for home this week.

There were two births since—a girl to Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Michaels, the Holy Ghost, and member of the faculty at St. Rose de Lima school, was admitted to the hospital early this week, victim of pleurisy which since has developed into pneumonia and her condition at writing considered of a serious nature. Sister Auxilia has been teaching continuously for the past 30 years and this is the first interruption during the long period, it was said.

perintendent of education was taken suddenly ill Sunday evening and rushed to the hospital, with symptoms of appendicitis. Feeling better he was dismissed Tuesday morning.

However, an acute attack developed Wednesday afternoon and he was conveyed to King's Daughters' hos-

Sheeler, performed an appendectomy that evening. Late reports are the patient is doing quite well.

several stitches to close the deep gap.

Ocean Springs, now residing in State street, was a surgical patient up to last Tuesday when he was dismissed and returned to his home. He has recovered from a severely injured hand.

The Garden Tours Committee of Bay-Waveland Garden Club, had a called meeting Friday afternoon to proposed route were submitted. Mrs.

SEAFOOD GROUP HAS NEW HEAD

Ed. P. Ortte Resigns as President Gulf Coast Shrimp-ers and Oystermen's Association.

The Gulf Coast Shrimpers' and Oystermen's Association reluctantly accepted the resignation of Mr. Ed.
P. Ortte as its president, who did so in order he may announce his candidacy for supervisor on Beat 5, Hancock county and devote his time to an active and vigorous campaign.

He was succeeded by Mr. R. Johnson former vice president.

During the administration as president, Mr. Ed Ortte developed this labor organization and increased its membership considerably. One of the finest things accomplished while president, was the organizing of a relief fund. The members, which are all seafood workers, including boatmen, fishermen, oystermen, and factory workers, are taxed a small amount of money on their earnings and placed in this fund which is used whenever necessary in helping members when in distress through either sickness, unemployment, or otherwise.

Already this worthy cause has provided and assisted many who were above cases, whereby it has become the backbone and strength of the union. All members recognize Mr.
Ortte in having proven his worthiness and sincere feelings to his fel-lowmen by creating such a relief fund.

There are many other outstanding accomplishments that Mr. Ortte has achieved while heading this labor organization and his resignation did not prove only a shock, but a first, was protested by the membership.
However, Mr. Ortte explained that he felt that he had succeeded in putting the union on top and felt now that a well organized body of board of directors and the new president could carry out his plans and well manage the organization. He also, felt that he had fulfilled his promises and trusts to the membership, that even though he was resigning, he would still be of whatever service he could to the organization, but he felt that labor union and politics should not be combined and besides, it will be impossible for him to give the necessary time in handling the union's affairs as he would be very busy in his candidacy for supervisor of Beat 5.

As a token of appreciation by the members, Mr. Ortte was voted a lifetime honorary membership in this organization.

R. Johnson was recommended by Mr. Ortte to fill out his term as president which also carried unanimous support. The new president, made a beautiful talk, highly praising the work of his ex-president and promised to the membership that he would attempt in every way possible to continue the ideals of his friend and predecessor. In one part of President Johnson's talk he cited Ortte for his unselfishness and his continued efforts in assisting the members both collectively and individually at all times. He also mentioned that though the union pays all the expenses of the president, pertaining to their business, Mr.
Ortte at no time had ever charged 1 cent of his expenses to the union but paid them out of his own pocket.
Meeting was attended by the majority of the membership and every member there voiced his regrets to the retiring president.

Mr. C. Rangolph was elected vice president which office was vacated by the election of Johnson to president. Arthur Bourgeois was elected Ernest January was elected as a director. The meeting ended in a stag and entertainment sponsored by Ed. Ortte.

Program at Pass Christian.
The triumphant return of General Zachary Taylor to Pass Christian is being discussed by many Pass Christian residents who will take part in this bit of coast history.

Here many guests will be at their best and open for inspection the Flower Show, fostered by the Long Beach Garden Club with all coast garden clubs co-operating, will be held at Gulf Park College auditorium. This is rapidly assuming proportions of great magnitude, and costumes for the United Daughters of the Confederacy to wear in the receiving line at Beauvoir are ready for the finishing touches.

At Other Coastal Points
The Gulf Coast Military Academy Dress Parade, which will be a daily event at four o'clock will be given with military precision, and boat trips to Ship Island are scheu-led twice each day under the auspices of the Joe Graham Post, American Legion, from Gulfport. The invitational Golf Tournament to be held in Biloxi during Pageant Week will be the highlight for golfers from far and near.

Guides all along the coast are being drilled daily in what to see and how to see it.

The Coast Art Association will have a collection of prize-winning paintings in several places along the fifty mile tour, and at the Gulfport Woman's Club many coast writers will display their own masterpieces.

The two Coast Veterans' Facilities, outstanding Government hospitals, have arranged convenient visiting hours, and a trip to these places of beauty and quiet charm will be a time well spent.

Three days will not be long enough time to see all the coast has to offer, but each guest may choose his or her own type of entertainment and perhaps stay on and on.

RIGOLET'S HORROR.

AUTOMOBILE accidents claimed the lives of 14 persons in Louisiana and Mississippi over the weekend. Eleven died in Louisiana, three in Mississippi.

Four persons died after their automobile plunged through a guard rail of the Rigolets bridge 28 miles from New Orleans shortly before midnight Saturday. Sunday the car was pulled from 40 feet of water. The bodies of Mrs. Lois Kennedy, 23; Edward D. Kennedy, 6, her son; Alto Porter, 30, and Miss Margaret Gomez, 16, his fiancée were recovered. All were residents of Slidell, La.

This is a sad story, distressing in the extreme. Every week-end the daily press teems with a chronicle of such fatalities. As much as highway departments and local authorities exert every effort in providing for caution and safety measures, despite this fact the toll of death continues.

The story of the victims from Slidell brings the horrible occurrence close to home and impresses itself all the more. We are told the death car was practically without brakes.

It is for this reason, when cars become defective, drivers fail to see signal lights at night that the guard rail set opposite the approaches of each side of the draw span, should be placed further back from where they are now placed and should be of almost impregnable steel, or other like material, regardless of weight. The public, even though at fault, in time of off guard, should be afforded every safety and protection device. The hope is here expressed that in future every draw bridge barrier should be made of material irresistible to force and pressure. We are told it can be done.

A human life is worth more than all other material values combined. There is nothing more precious than a human life. God given, man cannot restore it.

What of the little 6-year-old boy who was robbed of a possible long and useful life, happiness for self, happiness for others and usefulness to the world?

There is no answer.

HANCOCK'S AGRICULTURAL AGENTS BUSY.

HANCOCK county agent, S. W. Stowers, and Home Demonstration Agent Louise Peters are a combined force working for the betterment of the agricultural and other rural sections of the country in a manner that cannot but bring results.

From the news columns of The Echo week after week we note the activities of Miss Peters in the sections of the county where her work thoroughly covers the given area. She has enlisted the interest and active working forces of the people she serves in a manner not to be doubted, consequently she receives in return the fullest realization which this work is planned to accomplish.

The new county agent, Mr. Stowers, is carrying on the activities of his predecessor in a manner that is highly satisfactory. Thus the two forces are giving the boards that employ them full value received for the money expended.

PAT HARRISON FOR THE CHILDREN.

THE underprivileged school children of Mississippi ought to live on the fat of the land from now on.

Senator Pat Harrison wires from Washington that Presidential approval has been given to a state-wide school lunch project in the sum of $1,859,076.

That's a lot of eats.

Senator Harrison also wires that Presidential approval has been given to a WPA project to collect a statistical analysis of judicial criminal statistics in Mississippi, carrying $21,701.

COURT RULES ON LAND SECTIONS.

MISSISSIPPI Supreme Court held Monday that sixteenth section lands, many of which are under 99 year leases now expiring, cannot be exchanged for other lands, either through sale or transfer.

The decision was considered of far-reaching effect since in many sections, individuals have transferred property to school areas in exchange for the sixteenth section lands.

PLAUDIT FOR PASS CHRISTIAN.

OUR sister city across the bay, is busily engaged in preparing for Pageant Week and will present a series of interesting entertainment. Pass Christian has had a most active season of civic and social doings—the junior carnival parade and ball, the President's birthday ball, the annual major Carnival Ball, the week of romantic and historical pageantry and soon the annual flower show.

Drive carefully, even if you don't care about yourself; let other people live.

Anonymous communications are not published in The Sea Coast Echo; if you send in anything sign your name, even if you do not want your name printed.

Natchez's first garden pilgrimage is in full progress this week, and the occasion is heightened in interest and importance by the visit of the first lady of the land, Eleanor Roosevelt, who delivered her lecture, "A Day at the White House."

YOU CAN HELP BAY ST. LOUIS.

EVERY citizen of Bay St. Louis has an opportunity to promote its development by making a distinct personal contribution to the community.

This does not require that one be rich, or even well-to-do. All that is needed is for the individual to realize that the welfare of every citizen can be improved as a result of multiplied unselfishness.

We do not advocate of course, that a citizen entirely forget self-interest or that anybody neglect his or her own business and interests. Volunteering some of your time, or a little of your money, for a public purpose is entirely compatible with every demand of absolute individualism.

It seems to us, at times, that many communities fail to accomplish little projects because they have their eyes on mammoth undertakings, entirely impractical under present circumstances. Anything that adds to the comfort, convenience or enjoyment of our citizens is worthy of our activity. There are many such undertakings that require little financial support but can be successfully accomplished by concerted effort.

We do not attempt to list these enterprises because each inhabitant has different ideas about what is important. Most worthwhile ideas can gain the support of a substantial group and these should receive attention. It might be a good idea for some of our readers to make suggestions as to feasible goals for civic activity during 1939.

The Sea Coast Echo will be glad to print short letters, containing such suggestions.

AND THEY CERTAINLY WILL.

THE following, taken from the Press-Register, of Mobile, may aptly be applied to our own Coast Pageant Week. And it is hoped (as we know they will) that Bay-Waveland residents will conduct themselves in the same commendable manner during the festive season.

"The Azalea Trail will be opened this afternoon for its tenth annual season with appropriate ceremonies. From today on through the next five weeks thousands of visitors will come here to view one of the most gorgeous displays nature has to offer.

"Mobilians, The Press Register believes, can be depended upon to show visitors every courtesy and consideration. We have a tradition for old Southern hospitality to maintain. With the co-operation of individual citizens and merchants visitors will take away as an enthusiastic impression of their reception here as they do of our flowers. They will go away boosters for Mobile and provide our city with the personal type of advertising that means much to any municipality. But any 'profiteering' at the expense of our visitors, and discourtesy they may encounter, will send them away as knockers instead of boosters, Mobilians interested in the development of the city will see that this does not happen."

PEOPLE ARE BETTER INFORMED.

THERE was a time when the people were not much interested in what happened outside of the United States and, if you go back some years, there was a time when nothing much mattered except what happened within gun-shot range of their homes.

Times have changed and with them, the outlook of our people. We are no longer insensible to what happens in the world because the economic consequences are felt in the sale of our products and the state of our businesses.

The development of rapid transportation, in the automobile and airplane, has done much to widen our outlooks. The dissemination of news, through the radio and newspapers, has heightened our interest. Today, as never before, there are well-informed people in every hamlet and crossroad in the United States.

This does not mean that, as a people, we have what we might call a world viewpoint. Our thinking, as expressed in national action, continues to be local. There is a vast number of people who believe that the United States is not yet part of the big world on which many people live. Yet, there are signs that a new understanding is manifest.

INSTITUTIONS OF GREAT SERVICE.

ONE of the reasons that leads us to retain faith in the ultimate salvation of what we call the human race is the interest shown in the churches and schools of the United States.

Go into almost any community of this great republic and you will find that the people who count are interested in their church and school life. They actively engage in the support of education and they participate in the worship of their churches. Moreover, they give financial support to both institutions.

With the schools leading us toward a greater intelligence and with the churches giving us a vision of greater goodness, there is hope for the people of the nation. It will be a sad day when this ceases to be the truth.

Now, among those who read this article, there will be some who have shown very little interest in educational and religious activities. These people seldom stop to realize that most of what they have and much of what they have and much of what they are represents the product of the two institutions that they carelessly desert.

OUR CHILDREN IMPROVE.

THIRTY years ago the woods were full of men and women who were sure that their generation of children, then growing up, was going to the devil faster and faster as the years passed.

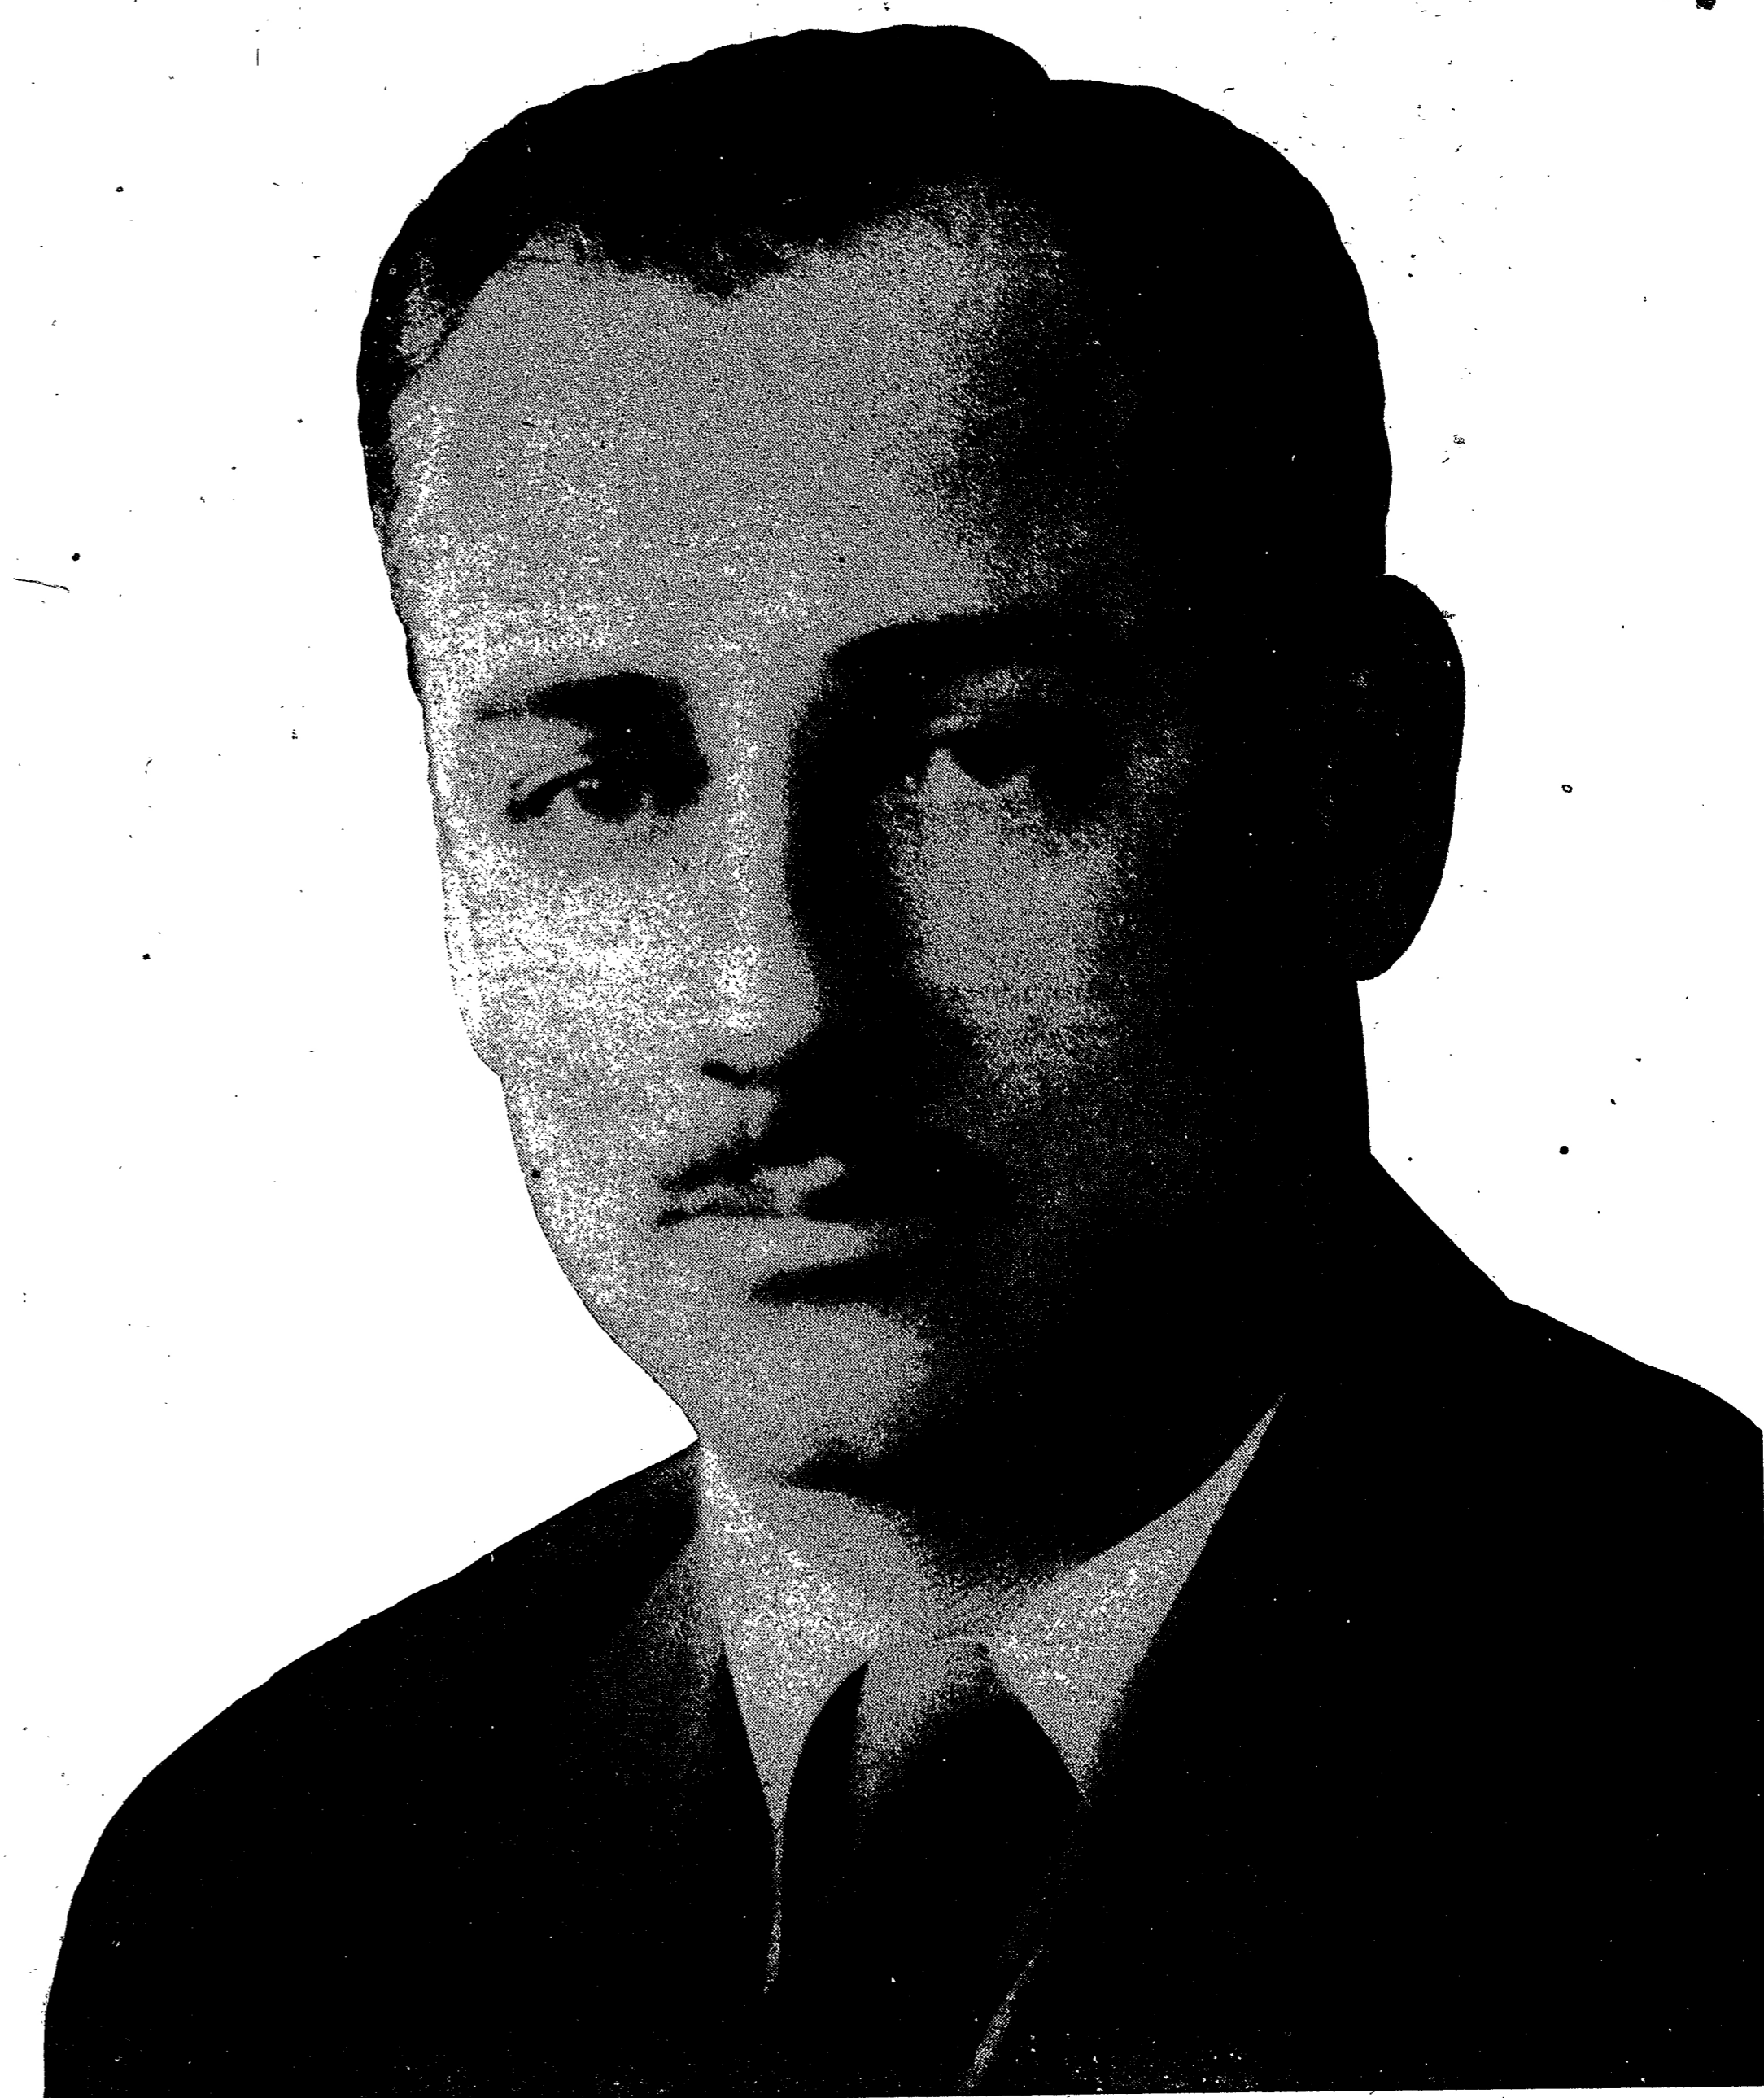

Today, these grand-parents are equally certain that the "grands" are an impudent, unappreciative and ill-controlled flock of youngsters. In some cases, they are joined by the parents, who a generation ago were the condemned children.

Meanwhile, the human race remains about the same, with some improvements noticeable. There is, we believe, a little less ignorance about certain vital facts of life, a little more willingness to frankly face issues and, we hope, a little more charity toward other human beings.

In answer to the article in this paper of last week requesting whether or not I was is the Supervisor's race, I wish to answer:

..Hollywood Notes..

The biography of the Boston dentist who discovered anesthesia in 1846 will serve as a basis for a picture this summer. The biography of William Morton is entitled, Triumph Over Pain.

An original story called, "White Rajah," based on the adventures of Sir Michael Brook in Sarawak, will be used as Mr. Flynn's next picture, preceding the production of "The Sea Hawk."

Glenda Farrell and Barton MacLane will be replaced in the next Torchy Blane story by Jane Wyman and Dennis Morgan.

The Bible story of Esther is being prepared for early production by Cecil de Mille.

The Swedish movie actress has been signed up to play in American version of "Intermezzo," an original Swedish film in which she starred in her own country. The story is about a musician, his wife and his accompanist.

"A Yank at Eton," will be a junior sequel to "A Yank at Oxford." It is being prepared for Mickey Rooney and Freddie Bartholomew.

Margot Stevenson, who played the lead in the stage production of "You Can't Take It With You," has been given a contract by Samuel Goldwyn and will appear opposite Joel McCrea in "This Restless Age."

Kay Francis, who left Warner's after being with them for six years, has been signed by RKO for a featured role supporting Carole Lombard in "Memory of Love."

Somerset Maugham's story "The Moon and Six Pence," has been purchased by Warner's as a screen vehicle for Edward G. Robinson.

Cary Grant makes three pictures a year and gets $150,000 per picture. However, he says that only eighteen per cent of his income is left after he gets through paying taxes and agents' fees. Even at that he should manage to get along.

It is reported that Victor Fleming will receive $150,000 for directing "Gone With the Wind." He replaced George Cukor after producing "Gone With the Wind."

MISS McDONALD AND EDDY COMING IN "SWEETHEARTS"

The outstanding musical treat of the movie season comes to the A. & G. Theater this Sunday and Monday with the fifth co-starring appearance of Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy in "Sweethearts" filmization of the noted Victor Herbert operetta and marking the first appearance of the popular singing team in a Technicolor production.

The new picture also marks a departure upon the part of Miss MacDonald and Eddy from such of their previous triumphs as "Naughty Marietta," "Maytime" and "Girl of the Golden West," in being a modern comedy, the screen play having been adapted from the Herbert operetta by the famed comedy writers, Dorothy Parker and Alan Campbell.

W. S. Van Dyke II and Hunt Stromberg, respective director and producer of "Naughty Marietta," again joined forces on the filmization of "Sweethearts," which boasts a supporting cast of such distinguished headliners as Frank Morgan, Ray Bolger, Florence Rice, Mischa Auer, Herman Bing, Reginald Gardiner, Fay Holden, Allyn Joslyn, Olin Howland, Lucille Watson, Gene and Kathleen Lockhart, Bertone Churchill and little Terry Kilburn, boy star of "Lord Jeff."

The story depicts the famed singing team as a happily married couple who are the reigning musical comedy stars of the Broadway stage. In order to thwart the first desertion of Broadway for the beckoning realms of Hollywood, their producer, Frank Morgan, resorts to a strategy in which a "play within a play" becomes a pivotal factor. Morgan almost loses his stars to the films, in consequence, but all ends happily amid singing, dancing and laughter.

tion had been underway for two weeks.

Mickey Rooney is reported to have set the sub deb's hearts all aflutter while on his trip to New York. There was a crowd hanging around the hotel whenever they thought he might be in or coming out.

Mrs. Knute Rockne is asking $50,000 from Warner Bros. for the privilege of letting them film the life story of her late husband.

MILLSAPS GLEE CLUB TO SING AT BAY HIGH SCHOOL THURSDAY 16

Rev. A. J. Bolyes, Announces Church Program.

Last Thursday, March 2, before a very large audience, Rev. Father Alphonsus Hotze, S. V. D., delivered in eloquent manner an impressive sermon on the following subject: "The Pet or Predominant Passion."

Here is the synopsis: Leonardo de Vinci—Success in model in his masterpiece "The Last Supper." He wanted to find a man perfect that could give an idea to paint the face of Christ and he found a young man praying in a church and he thought he was a perfect model. Then later he looked for a man who described to him the face of Judas. In some sullen he found one that gave him a good idea of the traitor Judas. After questioning that man he found out that it was the same man that two years before helped him to give an idea of the picture of Christ. What happened then? His pet or predominant passion led that man to such a state.

Lent, the Red Light, meaning to halt, stops fast driving, stops fast living, ends sinful living.

The church as a loving mother is watching over her children and forces us.

To look into ourselves.

To discover the germ that corrupts our life.

Deceive not yourself: This is the predominant passion.

(a) Carelessness to God, daily prayer, Sunday mass, sacraments.

(b) Unkindness, bitterness, old grudge.

(c) Bad example.

(d) Dishonesty, interference in purity.

(e) Dangerous literature, persons.

Rout out that passion whatever it may be.

Spend the remainder of Lent pulling out that one nail we so often drive in our Lord's body. Present it as a child does a dangerous instrument to his mother and on Easter Sunday faithfully and with a strong determination promise as a gift to your Saviour that you shall be the master of that predominant or pet passion.

This sermon was greatly admired by Catholics and Protestants. The congregation had also the honor to have the Very Rev. John Gasper, S. V. D., president of St. Augustine Seminary who was so kind as to play the organ for the choir and who also helped with his magnificent voice the singing for the services. It must be said that it reminded the large congregation of the splendid and artistic display of Professor Chas. Nutt, last year's rendition of musical masterpieces.—Rev. R. J. Sorin, rector.

RANDOM ECHOES

MAYOR G. Y. Blaize may be seen at any time on the streets of the city personally overseeing the wide-spread campaign in action—cleaning the city in anticipation of Pageant Week and the thousands of visitors expected to visit this section during the three-day period of Mar. 17, 18-19.

Mayor Blaize is most enthusiastic in the matter and while he is quite busy with the natural gas project for our city, he devotes all open time to the streets. Extra men have been at work and in ample time the city will have assumed the "spick and span" aspect. Owners of private premises it is hoped will respond to this activity in 100 per cent measure.

It is evident that the campaign for Hancock county primaries, to be held in August, has opened in earnest and from now on will be waged at a lively rate. Candidates from now on will announce their intention of running for office in the columns of The Sea Coast Echo, thus making their candidacy definite. The inquiry is often heard relative to who is running and for what office So-and-So is seeking. It is surprising how little is known of present and prospective candidates—outside of a very small group. The old adage to the effect the early bird catches the worm still holds good.

Newspapers in Mississippi counties are carrying a full column and more of political announcements.

There are rumors of several names of voters who will offer their services in the halls of the Legislature from Hancock county but so far none have made good their intention with the public by coming out in the formal and definite manner of appearing in print.

However, The Echo has the announcement of one Bay St. Louis voter who plans to publish it in the next issue of this newspaper. We are of the opinion our representative should come from this section, Bay St. Louis, where vital interests and developments for the immediate future are at stake.

There was a splendid gathering of the public at the local hospital dedicatory exercises last Friday afternoon, which we take as earnest of appreciation of the great good this institution stands for and as a manifestation of good will and desire to further the work to greater usefulness and to attain more results. It is a great relief of succoring the sick and aiding the distressed and well may it be said blessed are they who contribute to the cause and who sustain its operation. Greatly in need of funds and more support is the hospital and citizens should be united in the one purpose to provide for permanent funds and other means of supporting one of our greatest of all institutions.

Spring term Hancock county circuit court will convene on Monday of next week. This will be Judge Corban's first session in this county since his election to succeed Judge W. A. White. Because of an accumulation of cases the docket is unusually heavy, but Judge Corban told this scribe he will exert every effort to expedite the court's business in the shortest time possible and planning for the maximum result. He plans to hold full day sessions, he said, and work overtime when necessary. Judge Corban will be warmly welcomed on his initial visit.

In preparation the courtroom upper floor of our courthouse, is undergoing a thorough renovation, meaning not only for appearance sake but for sanitation and taking care of the building. A force of men are engaged this week in treating floors and stairways to sand papering process, varnishing and painting—the first treatment of this kind within a long time. Also lighting fixtures are being renewed and reset in order to provide better lighting. In fact, the premises is undergoing a general spring cleaning.

Both the courthouse and city hall for Hancock county and city of Bay St. Louis are kept in A-1 condition at all times, be it said to the credit of the respective administrations. Interior of both structures recently have undergone thorough replacement, re-arrangement and renovation, fully in keeping with the dignity of such places and commensurate with the fitness of things. It is valuable property and our administrative boards make it more so by their intelligent and wise policy of up-keep.

PAGEANT WEEK ON THE COAST.

Pageant Week on the Mississippi Gulf Coast is now only a week off and great enthusiasm and wonderful cooperation is being offered from far and near.

The program offered by coast residents March 17, 18 and 19, 1939 will give visitors pictorial expression of the part this section played in some of the more significant chapters in the history of these United States.

Arriving at Waveland at 8:30 in the morning of March 17, visitors will be taken to Priate House, shown over the grounds and served a real southern breakfast, at a nominal cost. From here they will go to the Shrine of Our Lady of the Woods in Bay St. Louis, and then through old homes and gardens where they will be entertained with negro spirituals and mammy singing lullabys.

Crossing the two-mile bridge to Pass Christian, the next stop will be the world famous Hecht Japanese Garden, then through several old homes and gardens of the Pass, with a stop for luncheon followed by a pageant depicting The Return of General Zachary Taylor and his troops, from the Mexican war. The welcome home to these heroes by townspeople, including young Jefferson Davis and his wife, will be staged according to historical accounts of that eventful day.

The next stop will be Gulf Park College where a coast-wide flower show will be held in Gulf Park Auditorium, under the auspices of the Gulf Coast Garden Clubs, assisted by Gulf Park students.

Guests will then be taken to Gulfport, where they may get dinner and at 7:30 P. M. a water pageant, in which Neptune and his court, under multi-colored floodlights, will welcome more than two hundred subjects for the coronation of Sea Queen Amphitrite. This pageant will be staged at the new Small Craft Harbor. On the second day, following the itinerary as mapped out by the program committee, visitors may go by boat to Ship Island to see old Fort Massachusetts, which was designed by Jefferson Davis while he was Secretary of War, and built by Abraham Lincoln during his occupancy of the White House, as president. Other side trips will be one of the Tung Oil Groves which should be in full bloom at this time, and to the deep sea harbor. The Womens Club will stage a book fair and Legionaires will serve hot coffee and doughnuts every day.

In the afternoon the United Daughters of the Confederacy will receive at Beauvoir, the home of Jefferson Davis and at 4 o'clock Gulf Coast Military Academy will entertain with dress parade when more than three hundred boys in uniform will drill for thirty minutes. Then on to Biloxi where some time will be given to tours of old homes and gardens and other interesting features. At 8 o'clock Biloxi's principal event will be "Biloxi Under Seven Flags" giving the entire history of Biloxi in pageantry by professionally directed cast of more than three hundred participants. The following morning there will be trips to the Veterans Facilities on Back Bay, a perfect paradise of beauty with winding steps and walkways through avenues of oak, pine and magnolia trees to the waters of Back Bay. The descendants of the Irish settlers of Biloxi will stage a pageant in the early afternoon and the Slavonian Colony will render folk music and dances in costume. Guides will escort guests through old homes and gardens, Historic Church, Cathedral avenue and many other points of interest.

At 4:30 each day the people of Ocean Springs will stage a magnificent pageant depicting the landing of D'Iberville. The boats will sail into port, land and soldiers, sailors, priest, friars and choir boys will come ashore and in the name of King Louis XIV of France, claim the vast territory bordered on the North by Yellow Stone Park and The Great Lakes and on the South by the Gulf of Mexico. Guides will lead the way to points of interest in the near Ocean Springs including Ruskin and Beautiful Gulf Hills.

Thus three days will be filled to overflowing with historic and modern events linking the past with the present in a most graphic and unusual way.

In preserving this revenue for the nation, the brewers recognize that the retailing of beer must give no offense to anyone.

It is, of course, the brewers' responsibility to enforce the law. But they are cooperating with all enforcement officials... to see to it that the laws you have made are rigidly observed.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

NO matter how much we like to cook, it becomes tiresome at times when we have to prepare three square meals a day. It is then that we turn to something new; if it isn't new foods, we can at least try serving the old ones in a new way. Make use of your extra cooking appliances the toaster and waffle iron. There are several varieties of savory sandwiches which when toasted seem much more of a meal than just a plain sandwich. Try serving them in hot gravy or sauce. Try to make your food interesting, give every dish you prepare a little personal touch.

Spaghetti and Ham Souffle
1 can spaghetti with tomato sauce
1 cup diced ham
4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
¾ cup tomato soup
2 eggs
Cook the flour and butter 'till cheery, add the tomato soup. When thick remove from the fire, add the spaghetti, ham and beaten egg yolks. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in an oven 350 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes. Serve with a sauce made from additional soup.

Hot Biscuit Chicken Sandwich
6 tablespoons mayonnaise ¾ cup pickles finely chopped
1 cup cold chicken, diced
12 baking powder biscuits
Blend together the mayonnaise, chopped pickle and the chicken. Spread the mixture between baking powder biscuits, split and buttered while hot. Serve while the biscuits are hot. Garnish with stuffed olives in crisp lettuce leaves.
